

Flight Training for College Credit

Eligible applicants may receive up to 30 semester units in the elective category.

Elective credit is based on hours of professional training. To receive elective credit, applicants must provide official documentation, such as a copy of a pilot's license, verifying the total hours of training. Individual "type rating" may also be used for credit.

Airline Transport Pilot (commonly called an "ATP") includes:

- 1500 hours of flight time (1200 for Helicopters)
- 500 hours of cross-country flight time
- 100 hours of night flight time
- 75 hours of instrument operations time (simulated or actual)
