Credit Can Be Fulfilled In The Following Ways:

- CCU Study Guides: Study Guides combine several different approaches to learning: including multiple choice examinations and/or writing assignments. Study Guides can be mailed to students or accessed through CCU’s student portal.

- Specialized Training: Specialized training credit may be awarded to undergraduate students based on documented professional training.

- Challenge Examinations: Challenge examinations may be offered when a student has enough prior learning experience and/or life experience related to a particular course. Challenge Examinations are available at the associate, bachelor’s, and master’s level only.

- Proposal, Dissertation, and Oral Defense (Doctorate Level Only): For the dissertation phase of the Doctor of Education programs, the student will choose a research topic related to his or her field of study. Under the direction of the Dissertation Committee, the student will complete a proposal and dissertation. All dissertations are then followed by an in-person oral defense.

- Transfer of Credits: Students who have successfully completed courses at accredited institutions may receive transfer credit for any applicable work. Limits apply to all programs.

Transcripts from foreign institutions must be pre-evaluated by an approved foreign credential evaluation service. A listing of approved organizations can be found at: www.naces.org

2. Submit a detailed resume that reflects all of your previous occupational experience.
What does “self-paced” study mean?

There is no set schedule for courses. CCU courses are designed to be as flexible as possible to fit into your busy schedule. Our courses do not require group projects, set meeting times, or exam dates. You may progress through your courses as quickly as you desire. However, students are expected to complete a minimum of 1 course every 6 months to maintain reasonable academic progress. In addition, there are minimum and maximum time limit requirements specific to each program (see below).

* Excludes VA/MYCAA and company direct pay students.

How long does it take to complete a degree program?

The degree programs offered by California Coast University have been designed to allow students to begin at any time and proceed with their studies as rapidly or slowly as their own time and ability permit.

Can I apply and start any time?

Yes. CCU offers open enrollment, which allows students to apply and begin coursework at any time during the year. However, VA and some company direct pay students must use our Academic Term Calendar for start and end dates. Please contact an Admissions Representative for details.

How do the monthly payments work? Is there a credit check?

There is no credit check. Monthly payments start one month after enrollment and continue until the degree program is paid in full. If all coursework requirements are satisfied before the account is paid in full, the student will have the option to pay their account in full or continue making monthly tuition payments. Please note that the degree will not be ordered and awarded until all coursework on the transcript has been paid in full. The University offers low monthly payments to students as a way for them to begin coursework without the need to come up with large amounts of money or take out student loans to complete courses. The monthly payment will remain unchanged as long as the student remains in good academic and financial standing, regardless of how many courses the student has completed.

Are there any hidden fees I should expect while completing my degree program?

No. CCU does not charge additional fees to students in good financial and academic standing. However, the University does charge additional fees for items that are offered outside of the normal course of a program (e.g., repeat examinations, program changes, reinstatements, and returned or late payments). Please see the CCU Catalog for a complete list of all non-refundable fees.

Can I use financial aid?

CCU does not participate in financial aid programs. However, the University does accept VA (Veteran)/MYCAA benefits, and company paid tuition vouchers. For more information on using Veteran or MYCAA benefits, visit our Veterans Education Benefits page. For information on company paid tuition vouchers, please contact an Admissions Representative.

Do I have term dates?

While there are no term dates, students must be able to demonstrate the successful completion of a minimum of 1 course every 6 months to remain in good academic standing. Students using VA/MYCAA benefits or some company direct pay are required to enroll in 16-week terms. Be sure to discuss the specifics with your respective employer and contact an Admissions Representative prior to completing an application for admission. Available term dates can be viewed on the Academic Term Calendar. New terms begin approximately every 3 weeks.

Are there out-of-state tuition costs?

No. CCU charges the same tuition rate to all students.
What is company reimbursement? How does it work?
Many CCU students have received reimbursement from their employer for tuition expenses. Contact your employer to see if you are eligible for financial educational assistance. If your company offers a reimbursement program, please discuss this with an Admissions Representative.

Do I need a Proctor? What is a Proctor?
Yes. Each degree program requires that a Proctor administer the final exam for all major (or core) courses and all general education courses. The purpose of the proctored exam is to verify that the person completing the final exam is, in fact, the person who enrolled in the course of study. A Proctor can be any reputable person, other than a relative, someone that resides with you, a current CCU student, or CCU graduate.

What if I only have a high school diploma or GED and have no prior college education? Can I still apply?
Yes. If you have earned a high school diploma or GED and have no prior college education, you may still apply to an undergraduate program. Applicants must provide an official transcript of high school completion.

Is it possible to enroll into a bachelor's degree without completing an associate degree?
Yes. It is possible to be admitted into a bachelor’s degree program without completing an associate degree. For additional details, please contact an Admissions Representative.

Will I automatically earn an associate degree while completing a bachelor's degree?
No. If you want an associate degree, then you would need to enroll in an associate degree program first and complete all requirements for graduation before enrolling into a bachelor’s degree program.

Do I have to come to California?
Although students are always welcome to visit the University, it is not required that students come to the University in person. The only exception is for the doctoral candidates. CCU does require that doctoral candidates appear in person for the oral defense of their dissertation.

Does California Coast University offer online programs?
Yes. All programs are offered online. Alternatively, printed course materials can be mailed to the student upon request. Students outside of the contiguous U.S. (includes AK, AS, FM, GU, HI, MH, MP, PR, PW and U.S. VI) may only receive coursework and grades electronically.

Does California Coast University offer on-campus programs?
No. The University is a distance learning institution and does not offer any on-campus or residential type of programs.

Can I take a single course?
No. At this time, students may only enroll in a certificate or degree program and cannot enroll into a single course.

Is there a graduation ceremony?
Yes! CCU does offer a private degree presentation upon request. Because CCU graduates are located all around the globe, we do not hold a formal group graduation. Therefore, most students choose to have their diploma mailed to them. However, we do welcome visitors anytime throughout the year.
Distance Education Accrediting Commission

California Coast University is accredited by the Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC). DEAC is a private, non-profit organization founded in 1926 that operates as an institutional accreditor of distance education institutions and is listed by the United States Department of Education as a recognized accrediting agency.

In the United States, accreditation is a primary means of assuring educational quality. To receive accreditation, an institution must clearly demonstrate that it has established educational goals; offer formal, organized learning experiences and services that enable students to meet stated goals; and insure that students and graduates have benefited from the learning experiences provided.

Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education

California Coast University holds Institutional Approval from the Bureau of Private Postsecondary Education (BPPE) of the State of California.

The Bureau is a unit of the California Department of Consumer Affairs charged with regulation of private postsecondary educational institutions operating in California. This is accomplished by conducting qualitative reviews of educational programs and operating standards while proactively combating unlicensed activity. “Approval” or “approval to operate” means that the Bureau has determined and certified that an institution meets minimum standards established by the Bureau for integrity, financial stability, and educational quality, including the offering of bona fide instruction by qualified faculty and the appropriate assessment of students’ achievement prior to, during, and at the end of its program.

The university’s programs are not designed to meet any particular licensing or credentialing requirements. Prospective students interested in licensure or credentials are advised to check with the appropriate agencies, school districts, professional association and governmental agencies before enrolling with any college or university. Acceptance of transfer credit is determined by the receiving institution. Students interested in transferring credit to another college, university, or program are advised to contact the receiving institution prior to enrollment.
The Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC) is recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA).

California Coast University is an institutional member of the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA). CCU’s accreditor, the Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC) is recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA). Recognition by CHEA affirms that the standards, policies and procedures of the accrediting organization meet the academic quality, institutional improvement and accountability expectations that CHEA has established.

California Coast University is listed in the U.S. Department of Education Database of Accredited Postsecondary Institutions and Programs. CCU’s accreditor, the Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC) is listed by the U.S. Department of Education as a recognized accrediting agency.

The U.S. Department of Education is the agency of the federal government that establishes policy for, administers, and coordinates most federal assistance to education. The Department’s mission is to serve America’s students and to promote student achievement and preparation for global competitiveness by fostering educational excellence and ensuring equal access.
